

Reviewer 1

For author and editor

The article is an interesting review that mainly calls for reflection on the improvement of classical teaching models, to make them dynamic and understandable and thus foster the interest of students.